American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Buy American)

The “Buy American” provision of the “American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009” (P.L. 111-5) is an attempt to stimulate the American economy by supporting production, employment, and other business activities in the United States of America. This legislation follows previously existing statutes, the Buy American Act of 1933 and the Buy America law, first enacted in 1964. The difference in these varying statutes lies partially in whether sourced products must be 51% or 100% made in the United States.

The vast majority of Streamline® and Mueller Refrigeration® brand products sold by Mueller Streamline Co. are produced in USA manufacturing operations owned by Mueller Industries, Inc., a publicly owned (NYSE: MLI) American company headquartered in Collierville, Tennessee. Since earliest beginnings, Mueller Industries and Mueller Streamline Co. have invested in and protected manufacturing capabilities here in the USA. As of today, Mueller Industries has over 50 operations located throughout the states and employs thousands of American citizens.

The following are products offered by Mueller Streamline Co. and manufactured in the United States of America.
